

Attention local officials, sustainability managers, and environmental committee members

Join us for a free national webinar!

Learn how towns and cities across America are implementing innovative programs and policies to reduce their use of plastic.

Plastic pollution is no longer just an environmental issue. Emerging science is demonstrating that plastic is a serious public health issue in every phase of its life, from production to disposal. Tiny pieces of plastic carrying a cargo of toxic chemicals and bacteria are now being found in every part of the human body. What can cities and towns do to stem the tide of plastic pollution? Join us to find out!

Our Speakers

Judith Enck is Founder and CEO of nonprofit Beyond Plastics, and a Visiting Professor at Bennington College. She previously served as Regional Administrator at the EPA.

Jamie Harkins is a Sustainability Coordinator for the City of Boulder, Colorado, where she works on energy and waste reduction programs, policies and planning projects.

Shannon Parry is the Deputy Sustainability Officer for the City of Santa Monica, California, and has been involved in sustainability practices since 2001.

Maureen Porras is a city councilwoman in Doral, Florida. Maureen is also an Immigration Attorney and Legal Director of a global nonprofit organization.

Brian Thompson is a former journalist and reporter for NBC-NY, and a member of the Environmental Commission in the Borough of Monmouth Beach, New Jersey.

Join us for a free national webinar

Thursday
November 14, 2024

1 pm Eastern /
10 am Pacific

Participation is free, but registration is required.

Scan the code to register,
or visit bit.ly/e87fgh

Watch the video on our website!

Produced by nonprofit Grassroots Environmental Education, creator of the award-winning sustainability program
How Green is My Town?
www.HowGreenIsMyTown.org